Guessing games are a fun and educational way for kids to learn new words, improve their listening skills, and develop their imaginations. They also help kids to socialize and interact with others. Here are a few fun guessing game kids for toddlers and preschool kids:

I Spy

I Spy is a classic guessing game that can be played anywhere. To play, one person chooses an object and says, "I spy something that is...[color, shape, size, etc.]." The other players then take turns guessing what the object is. The first person to guess correctly wins.

Here are some tips for playing I Spy with young children:

- Start with easy objects that your child is familiar with.
- Give your child plenty of clues.

- Be patient and encouraging.
- Make sure everyone has a turn to guess.

20 Questions

20 Questions is another classic guessing game that can be played with any number of people. To play, one person thinks of an object, animal, or person. The other players then take turns asking yes or no questions to try to guess what it is. The person who guesses correctly wins.

Here are some tips for playing 20 Questions with young children:

- Start with easy objects or concepts that your child is familiar with.
- Encourage your child to ask specific questions.
- Be patient and help your child to stay on track.
- Make sure everyone has a turn to ask questions.

Charades

Charades is a fun and active guessing game that is perfect for a group of kids. To play, one person acts out a word or phrase while the other players try to guess what it is. The person who guesses correctly wins.

Here are some tips for playing Charades with young children:

- Use simple words or phrases that your child is familiar with.
- Encourage your child to use their imagination.
- Be patient and encouraging.

- Make sure everyone has a turn to act out.

Simon Says

Simon Says is a fun and active guessing game that is perfect for a large group of kids. To play, one person is Simon and the other players follow his or her commands. The commands must start with the phrase "Simon says." If Simon says something that does not start with the phrase, the players should not do it. The first player to make a mistake is out of the game.

Here are some tips for playing Simon Says with young children:

- Start with simple commands that your child is familiar with.
- Encourage your child to listen carefully to the commands.
- Be patient and encouraging.
- Make sure everyone has a turn to be Simon.

Guessing Games for Toddlers

Here are a few guessing games that are specifically designed for toddlers:

- What's in the bag? Put a few different objects in a bag and let your toddler reach in and feel them. Ask your toddler to guess what each object is.
- What animal am I? Make animal sounds and have your toddler guess which animal you are.
- What color is it? Hold up different colored objects and ask your toddler to name the colors.

- What shape is it? Hold up different shaped objects and ask your toddler to name the shapes.
